MY PROMISE

Front and Backend Web Developer with a background in client relations. I recently earned a certificate in Full Stack Development from Georgia Institute of Technology, with new development skills in Html, CSS, JavaScript, jQuery, Bootstrap, Handlebars, React.js, C#, MySQL, Node.js, as well as deployment with Heroku, Git and GitHub Pages. Through projects such as Choice Eats, an app that was developed amongst an entrepreneurial team, to inspire eaters to help chose the best and healthiest options for their dining experience, I have learned how a team can encourage and promote the best ideas and the importance of different perspectives on how something should work thereby influencing the final user. With a vast range of previous work experience, I offer a unique perspective on how web development can impact cross-culture initiatives. I am passionate about how apps influence the end-user experience, but realize it hinges on diligence and optimism to achieve these goals from creation to implementation for the end-user. As a highly motivated, goal-oriented web developer, I am looking forward to utilizing my talents and experience to help create new and fresh ideas while solidifying my personal skills and engaging in knowledge share with other colleagues.

WORK HISTORY AND COMPREHENSIVE SKILLS

March 2010 -
Present

Creative Recreation Redesign, Inc. – CEO (Self-Employed)

As CEO and Manager of Creative Recreation Redesign, Inc., a family-owned and operated business which specialize in interior and exterior house remodeling, it is my responsibility to manage the end-to-end delivery of construction-based projects, often this includes delegating responsibilities between multiple resources, such as subcontractors, suppliers, and the clients to ensure a smooth project. As the primary source of contact between these resources, it is imperative that I maintain a client relationship and internal relationship built on transparency and customer focus. I gain client trust by ensuring all targets were met within the specified timeframes as requested from the client while focusing on the health and profitability of the bottom line required to operate my business. To foster lasting relationships, I would ensure that I was available for all project client-facing tasks and to assess the status of the projects at all phases of the life-cycle. As a full stack developer, I would incorporate the same level of dedication and accountability in my day to day responsibilities and projects.

- Construction Projects – Design and Build
- Establishing and maintaining client relations
- Direct People Management of subcontractors
- Facilitate business operations between vendors, contractors, and clients.
- Web Design/Social Media
- Establishing and maintaining client relations
- Finance and Accounting: taxes, payroll, insurance premiums, organization of corporate accounts, estimates and invoicing, and credit management.
- Corporate Filings/Legal: Licensure and Insurance
- Marketing/Advertising

June 2006 –
February 2010

The Andes, Inc. – Construction Foreman

At the Andes, Inc., I was responsible for managing and coordinating all aspects of the project site. This included managing not only the specific construction tasks, but also coordinating the activities of all resources assigned to that project. From the start, I worked closely with the team to establish a manageable timeline for both the client and the team. To promote overall production levels, I would communicate all activities to senior management and seek advisement on how to improve upon production levels.

- Construction Projects – Design and Build
- Direct People Management of subcontractors
- Facilitate business operations between management and subcontracting team.
